No Loss In Murray Hills Brush Fire

Lemon Grove Firemen joined with those in La Mesa for two hours Saturday to subdue a brush fire which burned 28 acres on the south side of Murray Hills.

The property is in La Mesa and the Lemon Grove Fire Department joined in the fight after a "mutual aid" call.

Four homes on the Lemon Grove side of Murray Hills were endangered but none suffered damage.

The L.G. Department was under the direction of Fire Chief Fred Dixon. The cause of the fire could not be established.

The smoke could be seen for several miles and attracted considerable attention because fires reported in the back country were being fought by State Forestry men at the same time.

Dog Owners Face Fines

It used to be delinquent kids. And now it's delinquent dogs.

A delinquent dog is one without a current dog license. There are more than 45,000 delinquent dogs in San Diego County.

And each dog fitting in that category will get a license notice this week. Or at least his owner will.

Dr. H. C. Johnstone, County Veterinarian, said Monday that his office is using the direct mail approach to remind dog owners when county records show they are delinquent. Those owners who voluntarily comply and renew their dog's license will be subject only to a late fee of $2. Those who do not heed the notice, will be subject to a court appearance and a fine.

Dr. Johnstone said more than 1,400 citations have already been issued due to the County's stepped up enforcement program.

The responsible dog owner who licenses and confines his dog has paid the cost of Animal Regulation long enough. It is time others paid their share, he said.

$8 Million Transit Fund Gets CPO OK

Eight million dollars — $7.9 million to be precise — has been approved by the Comprehensive Planning Organization for distribution in local transit funds.

The money is to be distributed to 13 cities in the county and to county areas.

But $2 per cent of it — $6.5 million — is going to the city-owned San Diego Transit Corp. Two per cent of the allocation is to be used for bicycle paths.

The money comes from state sales tax funds on gasoline.

There is no program for Lemon Grove or Spring Valley. These communities will benefit through whatever added service the S.D. Transit Corp. approves for the east county.

300 Attend Grossmont College Ceremonies

In a school year-end ceremony, Grossmont College students, staff, community members and campus clubs were honored during the annual Associated Students of Grossmont College, Inc. (ASGC) Scholarship and Service Awards Presentation attended by more than 300 persons.

Department honors were awarded to those students selected by the faculty of the various departments as meriting special commendation for progress, interest, participation and scholarship in that department's curriculum.

COMMENDED — James Rowell of 1438 La Corta cir., Lemon Grove, was commended by the San Diego County Board of Supervisors for service in the San Diego County Volunteers in Probation program (VIP). Rowell has worked as a "big brother" in the county program which comprises over 700 citizen volunteers and a supervisory staff made up of members of the Probation Department. The Volunteer unit is a support force to the County Probation department and services extend from one-to-one counseling to sponsoring group activities.

Transfer of 35 Students Stirs Crane St. Parents

A petition, signed by 11 Grove's unemployment, according to Paul Reynolds, as to the Lemon Grove School District superintendent is present. District trustees last week entirely 9.3 per cent with 1,323 after the District had changed unemployed persons out of a boundaries for part of Crane 14,000 person work force.

Thirty-five youngsters, now attending Mt. Vernon school will be transferred to Golden Ave. school.

The change results from subdivision development just east of Mt. Vernon and Palm Junior High schools.

William L. Brown, of 3133 Crane st., spokesman for a group opposing the change, said "We're upset and angry . . ." Leonard Rogers, 8429, with five school age children, argued that the newcomers — when they come — should be sent to under-capacity rooms of other schools even if it meant busing them.

Chris Palazzola and Mrs. Martha Masters also registered objections.

The board didn't see much reason to change its position. However, members agreed to hold back on the order until another meeting before making it effective.

In other business, the board authorized Robert E. Sutton, school district superintendent, to apply for $35,000 Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) funds (formerly PEP).

The District would employ four persons for gardening, cleanup, painting type jobs. CETA funds become available as a grant when unemployment rises above nine per cent. The luncheon is open to the in a community. Lemon public.

Grossmont Trustees Okay Rehire For District Teacher Aides—Maybe

The Grossmont Union High School District Trustees have dismissed 146 classroom aides due to teaching staff reductions for the 1974-75 school year.

However, in view of the recent passage of a tax increase measure, the district will have an additional 2.3 million for its coffers in 1974-75.

Twenty-nine instructors who had been released by the district prior to passage of the tax-measure have been rehired. The district will reduce the number of teachers through normal attrition rather than from dismissals.

Coupled with the additional tax funds the district enjoys for aides hit $230,000 last a 2 million dollar carry-over year," said Asst. Supt. for Personnel, Barbara Clough.

The fate of the aides depends upon the outcome of negotiations between teachers and trustees who will meet in July or August to discuss a wage-hike proposal for teachers. Each school will be able to rehire aides on a seniority basis depending upon how much money is left in its own budget after accounting for salaries of teachers and other classified personnel, according to Supt. Austin Seltzer.

Belated Father's Day Greeting

Over the week-end a communication crossed our desk that will touch all Dad-lovers—and their numbers are legion.

It came from one of our favorite correspondents, State Senator H. L. Richardson, Jr. Richardson is the Republican nominee for U.S. Senator in November.

The current piece is about his father. He wrote it for Father's Day—and that's when we read it.

Now Father's Day is past, but that should not lessen the impact—especially among those whose fathers have died. And those who have given their father less love and respect than he deserved will appreciate it, too.

Here is what Senator Richardson said:

"I wasn't born with a silver spoon in my mouth, in fact, we Richardsons were happy to have any kind of a spoon available, as long as it had food on it. My family were working people; whatever work was available was good enough. My father was, and still is, one of the great men I know. A proud man of whom I am very proud.

"My father's formal education was to complete the first year of high school. At 14 he started to work and has been at it ever since. During the Depression, he worked as a day laborer, a factory hand, a gas station attendant, a clothes store clerk—you name it, Dad did it. Not once did he ever stick out his hand to government. Our family set up our living quarters in the back of a filling station, while Dad pumped gas out front. We lived there two years.

"I guess by today's standards, you could have called us poor, but I was never aware of it. I have always considered myself fortunate, even when I was a child. My father taught me that I was blessed to be born an American citizen, that the world was my oyster, if I would only be willing to work and use the brain that the good Lord gave us all.

"Envy of others was never a part of my early training. My father never concocted any imagined constraints that would impede my progress. If a man was rich, my father directed me to study the way he attained his wealth. Never did he teach me to covet that which another had earned. 'You can be successful too, Bill, if you try.'

"Dad taught me a lot of other lessons, such as respect for my elders. I was taught to address anybody older than my generation as 'sir' and 'ma'am.' Any departure on my part into adolescent flippancy would soon be followed by posterior pain. The patriarch who ruled the Richardson household was not adverse to direct confrontation by a waving of hands. My father's gyrations were not random. At the end of his arm was usually his belt and I can tell you where the leather met the road.

"I had a healthy 24 carat All-American fear of my father. One sharp word was usually enough, but the ultimate paternal violence was always there, if I dared to question his authority or wisdom.

"During those early formative years, where life was tough on my parents, I was always sheltered. My childhood was filled with joyous memories. The hard years of the Depression never touched my sister or myself. Dad loomed as a tough, protective shield, cheerful, strong, and always right. I could never understand why my father wasn't the President of the United States. Whenever he was around, everything was O.K.

"Two things inviolable in his ire more than anything else, Dad hated a cheat and Dad hated a liar. If someone gave him too much change, he would quickly but politely correct the error. He wanted nothing that he hadn't earned. He would go out of his way to set matters straight.

"Liars weren't his favorite folks. Dad's word was good, and he expected others to keep theirs. For this reason, he has been taken advantage of, on more than one occasion. Frankly, I have always felt it was the other guy who was the loser.

"He used to say, 'Bill, you've got to watch out for some people.' Then he'd turn around and put his trust in others again. I never felt that he was ever really hurt by his trusting.

"My father was, and still is, an American optimist, a true product of the American dream. An industrious, honest, hard-working man, who at 67 years of age, is still hard at it, carrying his own weight, and helping others in the process. He manages an apartment building — not the classiest job in the world — but he earns his own living, by gosh.

"I was named after him — H. L. Richardson, Jr. Senior is still tops in my book, and on this Father's Day, I want him to know he's ace high with me. Happy Father's Day, Pop!"

A Note of Elegance

Westgate Plaza is reported to have been sold.

The buyer said it was one of the three most elegant hotels in the world.

He's probably right. His judgment was given credence last year according to an executive then associated with the hotel.

It was when a Texas tycoon came to San Diego in his chauffeur-driven limousine and stopped over at the Westgate Plaza where he had reserved adjoining accommodations for himself and his man.

When the Texas tycoon left he complimented the management highly on the "elegance of the holstery" generally and of the two-room suite he had occupied, particularly.

It was then that management realized that tycoon had been given the servant's quarters intended for the chauffeur — and the chauffeur, naturally, luxuriated a week in the even-more elegant three-room suite intended for his boss.

Sups Wages Now $2,268 Month

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The signed by citizens objecting to Board of Supervisors formally an even smaller raise.

Supervisor Dick Brown voted themselves a $4,000 annual raise to $27,210 on Tuesday, with Chairman Conde and Supervisor Bear dissenting, proposed salary figure, and their pay is now $2,268 a month.

Fred Schnaubelt, president of San Diego Taxpayers' Council, exhorted the Board to Taylor added that he probably "set an example" by refusing had the least personal interest in the increase. He said, "You all in whether the increase was ready earn more than 95 per cent of the people you work that we need to attract men for." He cited a 57,000 signature petition of two years ago, market place."

Ferryboat Parties To Aid Restoration

The need for funding for the restoration of the ferryboat Berkeley is giving boat lovers a chance to rent the ferryboat for parties or wedding while supporting the Berkeley's fund raising drive.

For many it will be reminiscent of the pre-war years when the Star of India was a unique site for dances and parties.

Initial restoration work has already turned the Berkeley into a first class party vessel. The luxurious upper deck passenger cabin, replete with the original 19th century carved wood paneling, plate glass mirrors and stained glass windows can accommodate up to 500 seafarers. Additionally, many of the original ferryboat seats have been left intact for seating at meetings. The goal of the restoration is to turn the entire 30,000 square foot ship into a first class floating museum, complete with exhibit areas, lecture hall and maritime library.

The old San Francisco Bay ferryboat has already proven herself an admirable hostess to the Junior League of San Diego, the United Way and the University of California Alumni Association.

The Berkeley is one of the newest members of the Maritime Museum "fleet", all moored on San Diego's Embarcadero at 1306 N. Harbor Drive.

The S.D. Maritime Museum Assn. can be reached at 239-0625.

This Week's RECIPE

Sweet-Sour Saucery For Fresh Trout

There's an old saying: "Trout are good in the creek, better in the basket, best in the frying pan." That's because pan-frying is the best way to cook trout.

Like other fresh water fish, trout do not require much seasoning as their natural flavor is sweet and rich. Sauces that are often served with pan-fried trout include mayonnaise, lemon, tartar and barbecue sauce.

An unusual sweet-sour sauce adds distinction to this trout recipe. The sauce is a delicately flavored, colorful combination of green pepper, onion, crushed pineapple and pimiento. It is served over crumb-coated pan-fried trout, with a garnish of coconut.

For rich buttery flavor when pan-frying fish, use Blue Bonnet Margarine. Not only does it taste like butter, but it produces the same crispy coating and golden brown color in frying. For best results, heat margarine slowly so it doesn't burn; add the fish when margarine is hot. Do not crowd the pan or the fish will steam, not brown.

Don't overcook trout. It pan-fries quickly, about 5 minutes per side, and is done when the meat is no longer transparent and flakes easily when tested with a fork.

Sweet & Sour Trout
6 tablespoons Blue Bonnet Margarine
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 can (8 1/2 ounce) crushed pineapple
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch

'Dennis the Menace' To Prevent Poison

A new Federal Consumer Publication will attempt to make children aware of dangerous household substances, from polishes to medicines.

The Consumer Product Safety Commission has republished "Dennis the Menace Comic Book on Poison Prevention", and is available from the Department of Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

The booklet points out that nearly 1 million children swallowed harmful substances in the home last year. Single copies are free.

1 tablespoon vinegar
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
4 trout, cleaned
Flour
1 egg, beaten
1 cup flavored bread crumbs
Shredded coconut
Melt 2 tablespoons margarine in a saucepan. Add pepper and onion. Sauté until soft but not brown. Stir in undrained pineapple and sugar. Dissolve cornstarch in vinegar and add to mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Stir in pimiento; keep warm.
Dust trout with flour. Dip into egg and roll in bread crumbs. Fry in remaining 4 tablespoons margarine until brown on both sides and fish flakes easily with a fork. (Approximately 5 minutes per side.) Serve immediately with prepared pineapple sauce and shredded coconut. Makes 4 servings.

United Way, CHAD To Unite For Drive

United Way of San Diego County and CHAD—the Combined Health Agencies Drive—will campaign together within the business community this fall for operating funds for more than 100 local health and human care agencies.

Announcement of this major consolidation of community forces was made as officers of both organizations and other civic leaders attended signing ceremonies this week.

The initial agreement, which covers a one-year period, was signed by Thomas C. Peek and Philip M. Klauber, representing CHAD and United Way respectively.

Peek, who was chairman of CHAD's Board of Directors during the negotiation period, is San Diego manager for Prudential Insurance Company. Klauber, president of United Way of San Diego County, is vice president, customer services, San Diego Gas & Electric Company.

Business District Only
The fund raising effort will be conducted only within San Diego County's business and professional community.

Residential campaigns, membership enrollments and individual gifts solicitation, as well as traditional fund raising events sponsored by the constituent agencies will continue as before.

Signing of the pact was seen as a pioneer move which will be observed closely not only within the San Diego community but also nationally by federated fund-raising and national health agency volunteers and executives.

If the agreement signed to day in San Diego proves viable, local leaders see their action as establishing a successful precedent for similar arrangements in communities throughout the country.

CHAD, a local organization of nine national health agencies, was formed in San Diego in 1970. In its most recent complete campaign year, 1973, CHAD raised $154,484 from local business and industry. From all sources, nine CHAD agencies raised a total of $1.7 million last year.

CHAD currently is completing its Spring campaign among businesses to obtain funds for the CHAD agencies for the balance of 1974.

One of Three

Funds raised by CHAD are used to combat disease and crippling illness that are known to strike one in every three San Diego County residents. The health agencies carry on a three-pronged attack on illness through basic research, direct services to patients, and prevention through health education.

In 1973 United Way volunteers, throughout the county, raised nearly $6.7 million, distributed to agencies providing a wide range of human care services. This amount will serve as the base for arriving at allocations to some 90 United Way agencies covering the fiscal year from July 1,

A goal for the first United Way/CHAD campaign will be set by community leaders in July based on current studies of community needs. Today's negotiated agreement, however, stipulates that CHAD will receive $300,000 of the first $5 million raised from business, industrial, and professional group solicitation.

Amounts raised in excess of $5 million from the business community will be distributed according to a pre-determined formula, with CHAD receiving an increasingly larger percentage, depending upon the total collected.

Designations to specific agencies will continue to be honored.

The United Way / CHAD Campaign will be headed by David W. Hill, senior vice president and regional manager, United California Bank; and Victor P. Whitney, president, Pru Financial, Inc., co-chairmen; R. R. Richardson, secretary-treasurer, San Diego Imperial Counties Labor Council, vice chairman.

Changes Asked in Massage Parlor Law

When a massage parlor was opened across the street from Sweetwater High school, the County Board of Supervisors were stirred to action Tuesday.

The Board voted unanimously to attempt to establish a law that would prevent such an operation in the vicinity of schools, churches, public parks or other areas where youths congregate.

A study for controlling massage parlors has been underway for more than a year. The Board has been told by county counsel that control of the permit process can't be legally used to close down existing operations such as Man's World Massage at 680 E. 30th st. opposite Sweetwater High school.

Sea World will be the location of a special zoology course to be sponsored by UCSD Extension this summer. A year-round pass to the famed park is included in the registration fee.

"Aquatic Mammals and Fish at Sea World" will meet Tuesday and Thursday mornings through July 11.

Zoologist Alvin W. Brereton, who has led a number of Extension classes on "in-depth tours" of the San Diego Zoo, will also be teaching the Sea World course. He says that every major group of fish, as well as the dolphin, whales, seals and walrus will be observed and discussed.

According to Brereton, among the 30,000 kinds of fish on the earth "there are fish that do not swim, fish without scales, fish that lay their eggs on a rock out of water, fish that burrow, fish that generate electricity, many fish that make sounds, fish that are air-breathers — fish that could, in fact, drown."

Enrollees will meet at Sea World's main gate at 8 a.m. on the first class day. The fee is $58.

For further information, please telephone the Extension office: 453-2000, ext. 2061.

Lawmakers Ask Extended Relief

An estimated 244,000 unemployed Californians will receive an additional thirteen weeks of unemployment insurance benefits under an amendment to the Debt Ceiling Bill co-sponsored by Senators John V. Tunney (D. Calif.) and Abraham Ribicoff (D. Conn.). The amendment would permanently eliminate the 120 percent trigger requirement which provides for extended unemployment benefits if a state's insured unemployment was 120 percent of the rate prevailing in the corresponding period of the previous two years.

Senator Tunney previously sponsored legislation removing the requirement until June 30.

Permanent removal, Tunney said would make some 1,418,000 unemployed workers in twenty-four states, who would otherwise exhaust their benefits during Fiscal 1975, eligible for thirteen additional weeks of compensation.

Tunney said the California seasonally-adjusted unemployment rate now stands at "an intolerably high 7.6 percent, with thousands of unemployed rapidly exhausting their benefits. The alternative for many of them, if they are ineligible for extended benefits, will be the welfare rolls, further personal hardships and an added burden to the taxpayer."

Assessment Appeals Period Starts July 2

Property assessment appeals applications for 1974-75 may be filed from July 2 through September 16, according to Mrs. Porter D. Cremans, Clerk of the San Diego County Assessment Appeals Boards.

Application forms may be obtained in Room 306, County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway beginning July 2, she said. Information may be obtained by calling 236-2333.

How to Fight The Assessor

Roughly one fourth of San Diego County's property owners are receiving notices from the County Assessor informing them of increases in the market value of their properties.

When notification comes by mail with new, higher assessment and the property owner disagrees, there are procedures by which appraisals may be changed.

A member of the Assessor's appraisal staff will discuss any differences of opinion of value the property owner might have with the value estimated by the appraiser. He will review the economic data with the owner and explain the methods used in determining the value. A telephone call to the Assessor's Real Estate Division will activate this process.

Any property owner who still is not satisfied with the results of such a discussion has a legal right to appeal his assessment before an independent group, known as the Assessment Appeals Board.

Appeals Board
Applications will be accepted for an appeal between July 2 and September 15. Prior to July 2 a request for an application can be made by writing to the Assessment Appeals Board Clerk, 306 County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego 92101. After the application has been filed, notification of the date and time to appear before one of the three-member Boards at the County Administration Center will be given.

The assessed valuation of real property is 25% of full cash value (market value). Therefore, it's important to remember that in seeking a reduction in assessed valuation proof must be shown in the Board presentation that the property has been assessed at more than 25% of its actual market value. The amount the property is actually worth is called its full cash value (market value).

There are several ways to arrive at market value. A booklet has been prepared to assist the property owner in doing this, and it explains the methods available for establishing the market value of property. As well, it contains the Assessment Appeals Board procedure and rules. This booklet is also available from the Assessment Appeals Board Clerk.

There is also an $8.1 million increase for operation and maintenance, $6.3 million of which represents higher costs for power. Construction of new facilities, mostly to distribute water from the state project within the District's 4900-square-mile service area, is budgeted at $60,100,000, compared with $63,010,000 in 1973-74. MWD has completed or has under way more than $580 million in construction to handle water from Northern California.

Tunney Assures Water in S. Cal.

Sentator John V. Tunney (D. Calif.) announced this week he has received assurances from the Federal Energy Office that the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California will temporarily receive sufficient fuel to meet 100 percent of its current requirements.

The Water district, which covers an area of 4,500 square miles and services 10.5 million people including the Helix Water Works, needed additional fuel to maintain irrigation of municipal and industrial services to Southern California.

At the same time, Tunney said he has signed a letter with Sentator Warren G. Magnuson (D. Wash.) requiring FEA Administrator John Sawhill to establish permanent regulation guaranteeing water districts throughout the country the necessary fuel to protect the public welfare.

Up $22 Million

$200 Million MWD Budget Is Approved

A budget of $206,805,000 for the 1974-75 fiscal year has been approved by the Board of Directors of the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California. This is $21,984,000 higher than the current budget.

The District's budgeted construction expenditures in the coming fiscal year, under its $1.3-billion expansion program, are expected to be down by about $3 million.

This will be more than offset, however, by higher capital payments to the State for the works delivering water from Northern California to the District and by higher MWD operating costs, especially in power to pump both the northern water and water from the Colorado River.

Total actual expenditures this fiscal year are estimated at $174,966,000, which would provide a carry-over reserve of $9,855,000 to help support the 1974-75 budget. Capital payments to the State for the District's proportionate share of the cost of State Water Project facilities account for the greatest single item of budget increase. They will be $14,952,000 higher than this fiscal year.

There is also an $8.1 million increase for operation and maintenance, $6.3 million of which represents higher costs for power.

Construction of new facilities, mostly to distribute water from the state project within the District's 4900-square-mile service area, is budgeted at $60,100,000, compared with $63,010,000 in 1973-74.

MWD has completed or has under way more than $580 million in construction to handle water from Northern California.

Proposed expenditures in 1974-75 will be financed out of revenue from water sales, property taxes, proceeds from previous and anticipated bond sales and other balances on hand.

The District provides supplemental water from its Colorado River Aqueduct and from the State project to member agencies including San Diego.

Boats Carry Tax Load in S.D.

According to County Assessor E. C. Williams, there has been a dramatic increase in the number of boats in San Diego County. In 1950 the total figure was 2,300 but it jumped to 13,500 in the next five years. By 1965 the number of vessels here reached 20,000. Today there are approximately 42,000 boats of all sizes and shapes in the San Diego area.

The Boat and Aircraft Section of the County Assessor's office is constantly striving to maintain current records on all boats in the County. It's a big job, but one that must be done in order to have the necessary information for the Assessor to make a correct assessment of their fair market value.

Records are kept up-to-date from information received each month from the Department of Motor Vehicles in Sacramento, from field appraisals, boat dealers, marinas, and from reports of individual owners regarding transfer of ownership. An average of 1,000 changes of one type or another including ownership, address, engine replacement, location, etc., are received each month. The resulting follow-up involves sending an information form to the owner of record to obtain all the necessary details to maintain current and accurate records. Even though an examination is made of as many boats as possible each year, with some 42,000 boats and 1,400 private aircraft, an annual on-the-spot appraisal of all equipment is not feasible. Therefore, the mailed information form is a necessary and valuable tool in this program.

March Is 'D' Day

Each year, just prior to the tax lien date of March 1, the records of each boat are reviewed by an appraiser and consideration given to all the information on the record for the purpose of establishing a fair market value for the boat, equipment, and engine. In determining the fair market value a comparison is made, if available, of boats of unknown value with ones of known value. As well, current sales data are maintained through the program described above on current sales by contact with owners, through trade publications, boat brokers, blue books, marinas, and marine appraisers.

Pleasure boats, which make up the bulk of the vessels in the county are assessed at 25% of fair market value.

Since 1968, boats over five tons net, documented with the U. S. Coast Guard, and exclusively engaged in fishing or oceanographic research, have been assessed at one percent of fair market value.

Rotarian Here At Minnesota Convention

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Sorteberg, of 1885 Skyline Dr., Lemon Grove, attended the convention of Rotary International in Minneapolis last week.

He is a member of the Lemon Grove Rotary club.

The theme of this year's convention — the 65th annual one — is: "Improving the Quality of Life." Among the line-up of distinguished speakers who addressed the theme were: The Reverend C. Leslie Glenn, Canon and Sub-Dean of Washington Cathedral, Washington, D.C.; Charles Smeons, noted environmentalist and former member of the British Parliament; Dr. Arthur J. Garratt, science broadcaster and author from Essex, Surrey, England; Dr. Roger Morris, a program director for the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Washington, D.C.; and William C. Carter of Battersea, London, England, president of Rotary International.

Some 12,000 Rotarians and their guests from an estimated 75 countries worldwide gathered for the meeting. This was the second official visit of the worldwide service organization to this North American area.

Big Boats Exempt

Sportfishing boats and barges, engaged in the transportation of cargo or passengers for hire, and over fifty tons net, are exempt from taxation. However, under fifty tons net, they are assessed at twenty-five percent of fair market value.

One question commonly asked is: "Who is responsible for the payment of taxes on a boat that has been sold?" If you owned the boat on the lien date (March 1) you are responsible for the tax. If you did not own the boat on the lien date, the tax bill should be returned and the information given as to when the boat was sold and the name and address of the person who purchased the boat.

Even with the sizeable and continuing increase of boats and planes the Assessor's Marine and Aviation Section has achieved good results in maintaining accurate and current records so that owners are receiving fair and equitable market value on their equipment. However, as is the case of all assessments of property, Assessor Williams invites the owner who may differ with the estimated value placed on the boat or plane to come in and discuss the matter with his staff.

Mail Bag

Dear Editor:

Here is the letter I submitted to the County Board of Supervisors.

I know that next year there is bound to be a lot of real estate foreclosures unless something is done about property taxes.

It looks to me the 25 percent of full retail value is being used as a "whip-saw" to overtax property owners.

Herbert R. Ketell
753 Sacramento st.
Spring Valley

Board of Supervisors
County of San Diego
San Diego, California
Gentlemen:

Something sinister is happening in this San Diego County.

If you don't hold the line on expenditures, and keep the tax rate on private property down, there will be a "bath of foreclosures" that will depress this County for many years.

Property owners are being "whipsawed" between the Assessor's office and the Tax Collector's office. One year the Tax Rate goes up, the next year the Assessor raises Assessed Values. The result—many properties lose their economic value. Owners can't make any money after taxes. All public employees and teachers, firemen, police, Supervisors, and gov't employees depend upon private property owners paying taxes for their salaries.

The number of foreclosures of property is increasing rapidly now. Wait until next year—and you will see a Deluge of Foreclosures. The "Goose that lays the golden eggs" is being killed by Heavy Taxes.

Take our area of the County — Spring Valley. The tax rate here is now $14.47 per $100 including sewer & water over-charges. This is very high—about 35% higher than the City of San Diego. Now a new 26% raise!

April 11, 1974 we received notice that the assessed value of three of our properties in San Diego County were raised 26%. Thousands of other property holders got the same raise in assessed value. Wealth producers are "going down the drain."

Take a typical small property herein Spring Valley. A duplex. I own this one. Taxes for 1972-73 were $774.16. Taxes for 1973-74 were $676.64. Assessed value of $21,500 was raised to $27,500, 4-11-74. This is 26% raise. 26% of $676.64 is $175.72 — Total $851 approx. Add insurance cost—$74 for fire. Taxes & Insurance will be $925 for 1974-75. This duplex is an old building on a street that is not even paved nor maintained by the County. Maximum rentals are $150 a month, each unit—$300 a month total.

Add up the costs. Taxes and insurance—$77 a mo; water—$7; loan payment on $16,500 loan ($11,000 equity)—$150; repairs & maintenance & collection—$30; total—$264 when 100% occupied. Thus Owner is left with $36 a month for his $11,000 investment. That is not even 3 1/2% interest. He can get 6 1/2% interest in a Savings & Loan Assoc. Many foreclosures are imminent. The Property Owners are being "squeezed to death." What is going to happen to this great Country when property owners are taxed out of business?

Sincerely,
Herbert R. Ketell

Tax Facts Show Rich Pay More

Almost seven million California personal income tax returns were filed during 1973 for an increase of 1.3 million over the previous year. This increase was the largest for a single year since the California income tax began in 1935, according to Martin Huff, Executive Officer of the Franchise Tax Board.

The primary reason for the increase was the introduction of State payroll withholding. Many individuals who owed no tax, such as students and other part-time workers, filed for the first time in 1973 to claim a refund of the tax withheld.

This was verified by comparing the 1.9 million returns filed in 1973 with an adjusted gross income of under $5,000, with the one million returns filed by the same group in the prior year.

Returns filed with an adjusted gross income of under $10,000 accounted for over half of the total returns filed and for tax amounting to 7 percent of the total, Huff said. At the other end of the spectrum, taxpayers reporting an adjusted gross income of over $25,000 paid almost 50 percent of the tax, but accounted for only 6 percent of the returns.

Approximately 12,000 returns showed an income of $100,000 and over. Taxpayers filing these returns paid about 10 percent of the total tax. Taxpayers reporting incomes between $5,000 and $15,000 paid about one-fifth of the total tax.

The statistics are from the returns reporting income for the 1972 calendar year which were filed in 1973.

Mint Director On Lookout for Pennies

"I'm calling on every American, especially young people, citizen, taxpayer and conservator of the earth's resources. I am calling on you to get the penny back in circulation and keep it there," Mrs. Mary Brooks, U. S. Mint Director, said today. "I'm calling on the banking industry to welcome the return of pennies during the month of June. I'm urging schools, churches, charities, retail establishments and others to examine ways they are in dresser drawers, shoe boxes, pickle jars; most members in collecting pennies for deposit."

The price of copper has risen, closing at $1.10 per pound on May 24. There will be no aluminum penny. The 62 billion pennies produced during the past 15 years have no numismatic value and because of the huge mintage they will never attain great value. Nevertheless, speculators and hoarders of pennies have caused what seems to be a shortage of pennies in certain areas of the country, including San Diego. But there is no shortage of a supply of pennies.

Creating a shortage where it does not exist can adversely affect every public spirited person, especially young people, citizen, taxpayer and conservator of the earth's resources. Rounding off sales to the next nickel is inflationary, she said.

For the Mint to be forced to continue increasing its penny production to meet the current extraordinary demand is wasteful. Wasteful of a natural resource—copper—that cannot be replenished by man. And wasteful of the taxpayers' money. One billion pennies returned to circulation will save the taxpayers $10,000,000.

Seven Games Close Padres Month at Home

The pendulum has swung to the West again, if only for a brief time, as the Padres prepare to close out the month of June with a homestand featuring National League Western Division rivals San Francisco and Houston.

For awhile, it appeared the Padres had switched to the Eastern Division as they put in 21 consecutive playing dates against clubs from that section. In fact, the Padres are returning home after stopping off at Eastern Division sites, Montreal and Chicago, before closing the road swing in Houston.

The respite from the East will last only momentarily as the Padres will have 16 of their first 19 games in July with Eastern Division teams. That will just about put the wraps on eastern play for the season, however.

But, back to the upcoming homestand which will feature the San Francisco Giants, June 24-27, and then the Houston Astros, June 28-30.

"We are really in a position to help ourselves in the standings," commented Padre field manager John McNamara. "For the past few weeks we've been playing good baseball and now we are in striking distance of getting out of the cellar."

"The big thing is that we'll be playing the two clubs which are just above us in the standings which means a good homestand could get us off the bottom. I felt this way before," continued the Padre skipper, "that if we could just get out of the cellar for a couple of days, we'd never go back in."

All the Giants games are scheduled for 7:30 starts with three specials on tap.

The series opener on Monday, June 24 will be the second of three Family Nights at which Padre fans can buy any reserved seat for half price and can purchase general admission tickets for just $1.

Additionally, the Giant with the Giants will be the games on the 25th and 26th next-to-the-last visit to San Diego by the Bay City club. The only dates remaining for the Leaguers 14 years of age and under in uniform being admitted free to the upper deck general admission section.

The six Little League districts have been divided up so that three districts will attend each night. For the June 25 game, it will be Districts 22, 31 and 41 with Districts 32, 33 and 42 attending on June 26.

PAD-FOURRI: The series home schedule will fall on Wednesday, June 26.

The Padres Class A club at Walla Walla in the Northwest League began its season on Sunday, June 30.

HEAT'S ON — Lanny Pemberton (87) in a Falcon is being challenged by George Behlman (18) of Lemon Grove in a Cougar. Larry Twomley (50) El Cajon in a Buick waits for a chance to pass. The race was won by a newcomer, (not pictured) Bobby Roland of Spring Valley.

Newcomer Is Winner At Cajon Speedway

Saturday, Ron Overman, with nearly 200 points lead in the battle for El Cajon Stock Car Racing Assn. championship, is the racer to beat at the Cajon Speedway banked oval.

Overman is the only driver to win twice this season. He has placed fourth four times and fifth another time in the 30 lap features.

The racing program begins at 8 p.m. with a four lap trophy dash, followed by four eight-lap heats. A 10 lap consolation, and a 15 lap semi-main before the feature.

Bobby Roland was a pit crewman with only the advantage of a few hot laps as a racing temptation.

But it was enough to get the 24 year old Spring Valley resident interested and he purchased a Nova from retired Jim Whitt to give super socks a try this year at Cajon Speedway.

Obviously he learned quickly because last Saturday night he reached victory circle for the first time, beating out such veterans as Cactus Henyan, Ed Hale and Ron Overman.

Roland was considered an early candidate for rookie of the year honors when he qualified for the main event for first night in competition. It scared him so that he asked to be paced in the back of the pack. But he finished 10th.

His meteoric career reached another plateau when he recorded the sixth fastest time. He has been consistently in the 17 second qualifying bracket.

And, he finally put it all together last Saturday night.

Gary Beecroft, a 28 year old aircraft mechanic from No. Island, took the early lead from his pole position, charging in front of George Esau and Henyan. Roland was riding fourth.

But the first of two accidents slowed up proceedings as workers went to work, patching up the walls again.

After Steve Fensler's wrecked machine was cleared away and pieces of fence were picked up, Beecroft resumed his advantage but finally had to give it up to Roland on the 12th trip.

Somewhat, Roand had not only gotten by Beecroft but Larry Hageman and Henyan, too.

Bob Baxter and his wife Barbara, did quite well. He took the eight lap heat and semi-main and Barbara won the ladies race.

As for "spoiler" Gerardo, the native of Sonora, Mexico has been inactive since outpointing highly regarded Armando Muniz six weeks ago at the Oympic Auditorium.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

The eyes of the golfing world shift away from Mamaroneck, New York and its Winged Foot trail to desolation and focus on the sun drenched landscape of San Diego this week for one of the most competitive links tourneys played by civilized man.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association's annual battle of man against irons, woods, elements and himself begins today at beautiful Carlton Oaks Country Club in nearby Santee.

The Oaks has been "toughened up" to make it resemble the monster of Mamaroneck, where dozens of egos lie buried in wind blown bunkers after last week's silliness billed as the U.S. Open.

The grounds at Winged Foot have been declared unfit for man or beast and two weeks of cutting and trimming have been recommended to make the course worth serious study for continued existence.

Only monsters and men depraved dream up curls and cuts of such a nature as to erode a player's earthly sense of being as was done at Mamaroneck. The Open trial was enough to last a golfer's lifetime.

Oh cruel dagger of fate, it was been decreed that men so tortured must so soon again pass through yet another valley of tears.

What God, in all his mercy, has graced on Carlton Oaks, man has torn asunder. There are ugly doing being done in the warm breezes and friendly sun of Santee.

Shaft is more than just a simple holding of head and grip together. It is also an accomplishment of meanness turning such a lovely graceful course, as Carlton Oaks, into a monster that will rival that of Mamaroneck.

Grass has been allowed to grow in such great quantity that hardly a rabbit or a squirrel can slither through the tempest lawn.

A new green has been added to Carlton's crown, but its unveiling was not made until today, when competition came to test the roll and break. All practice was made on lesser turf, where lessons learned are now for naught.

The new green on 16 lays amid boulders that could hide a band of charging Apache, on one side, and a thicket of jungle roots so tightly intertwined that balls that somehow find their way inside will surely never be seen again. And below that ambles a scenic brook that woo's the heart from par.

And so these brave young men, from colleges and universities across our land, will test San Diego hospitality this week. They have traveled long and from far away to try to wrest a crown from an unforgiving opponent, where many will tee but only one will triumph.

There are native sons among them. Lads who know the wind and wickedness of the Oaks' obstreperousness. Jimmy Jones of host San Diego State is a player. And Aly Trompas, now of Stanford but coming home really, to play this test.

USC boasts Crag Stadler and Scott Simpson who know and have played well this course as preps and junior stars. Gary Kock, last year's runner up and this year's favorite, will be leading a trio of Florida stars that earned passage into last week's Mamaroneck event. Defending champions that they are, Florida's crew paid close attention to Carlton during February's Aztec Invitational tourney.

Oh, there'll be great golf played this week in San Diego. The names might be new to the tongue, but the swing and the style will remain etched in the mind until fame finds its way.

In this land claimed, through work and sweat, from rock and desert sand, a growing, budding root is nurtured sweetly to fulfillment. In no less an honest venture treat yourself this week watching young giants carve for themselves, from flint, a hunk of future.

Debbie Kammerude of the Evergreen, Majors, hit a grand slam homer.

'Nitro Jam' Set For Orange Track

IRVINE — The addition of live rock 'n roll music to the seventh annual Nitro Championships has prompted Orange County International Raceway to rename the summer classic "California Nitro Jam."

Scheduled for next Saturday, June 29, the popular event retains a proven cast of 16 dragsters and 16 funny cars — all burning large percentage of nitromethane — along with the traditional fireworks display.

But new this year is a between-round music show headlined by Flash Cadillac and the Continental Kids. Nationally famous for their contemporary treatment of rock 'n roll hits from the Fifties and Sixties, the Epic recording artists will perform from a sound stage now under construction beside the racing surface. General Manager Blaine Laux has also signed a second, rock-country band to a show designed to provide more than three hours of continuous entertainment, beginning at 7 p.m.

This continuity is difficult to achieve during drag race events because, explains Laux, "These cars need at least 40 minutes' cooling time after every run. We've been looking for some form of entertainment to fill in the gaps, and rock music is a natural with our audience and this particular facility."

Top Fuel and Funny Car qualifications will begin at 12 noon on June 29, and the quickest 32 entries will return at 7 p.m. for the first of four elimination rounds. Fireworks will accompany Flash Cadillac's opening set at 8:30 p.m.

Mary Budke Eyed As NC2A Winner at Singing Hills

EL CAJON—Mary Budke, a former national golf champion who plays for Oregon State, Nancy Hager, a Texas U. representative to the Curtis Cup team, and Jane Renner from the host school, San Diego State, are pre-tournament favorites for the 1974 Women's National Collegiate Golf Championship being contested this Wednesday through Saturday at Singing Hills Country Club.

It's the second time in four years the women's collegiate championship has been held at Singing Hills.

Miami U., with several returning layers including low handicappers Sarah Stuhler and Ann Laughlin, is the defending team champion.

San Diego State, with Renner and Barbara Barrow, is given a good chance to keep the trophy at home when the 129 players representing 47 schools finish the four day tourney.

In the one and two handicap class are Pamela Clark of Rollins College, Brenda Goldsmith of Texas A&M, Dale Lundquist of Dade Community College in Miami and Mary Beth Solomon of Furman.

New Tax Laws May Aid Financially Distressed

Fifteen proposals for improvement of California Tax Laws have been suggested to the State Legislature and the public in a publication released today by State Board of Equalization Member John W. Lynch. The recommendations touch both property taxes and business taxes, all areas within the administrative purview of the Board of Equalization.

In its effort to provide relief to persons in difficult financial situations from harsh effects of state and local taxes, the Board urges a comprehensive property tax relief program based solely on need to assist persons who have difficulty in meeting their property tax burdens.

Among other proposals, the Board asks for:

An increase in State funding of school costs with guaranteed decreases in local property taxes;

Authorization for counties to collect property taxes in more than two installments;

Automatic expiration of property tax and sales tax exemptions at five-year intervals to force a periodic review;

A redefinition of organizations and properties which may qualify for the property tax welfare exemption;

Group Forms For Government Input

"Citizens for the Public Interest," a citizens action group doing community planning and providing a forum for area business held a meeting Monday at the Press Club at the Holiday Inn on Hotel Circle.

Among the items proposed was Supervisor Lou Conde's recommendation that an elected Regional Commission be created to give 13 local city governments direct input into County decisions. The proposed commission would review and make recommendations to the Board of Supervisors concerning County projects in incorporated cities.

Final Board of Supervisors approval is expected some time this week according to Mr. Don Waters, President of "Citizens for the Public Interest."

lien date to January 1st from the present March 1st;

In the business taxes field, the Board recommends:

Lower the rate and expand the coverage of the sales tax to include some services, such as auto, TV, and appliance repairs, dry cleaning and laundry, theater and sporting events admission;

Increase the tax on alcoholic beverages;

Revise insurance company taxes;

Adjust the fuel tax rates to reflect the higher efficiency of diesel fuel as compared to gasoline.

Creative Activity thru Transcendental Meditation

Donald Garrett Jr. is an unusual 23 year old. It's not just that he's a teacher or even the fact that he has studied in Nieuwpoort-bad, Belgium. Garrett teaches and practices Transcendental Meditation (T.M.). He studied under Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, an internationally recognized master of Transcendental Meditation and primary Instructor at the school for teachers in Belgium.

Garrett lives at 7022 San Miguel ave., Lemon Grove and is a lifelong area resident. His formal study ended in March and he is currently planning a series of lectures to acquaint people with T.M.

Garrett points out that, "a person will experience increased efficiency and enjoyment of daily activities," and cites enhancement of alertness, perception and concentration as a result of T.M. study.

His enthusiasm stems primarily from his own experience with T.M. and his recent decision to conduct a series of lectures is an outgrowth of that experience. He acknowledges that places are still available in some of its sum-

Taxpayers Assn. Warns of State Money Gap

SACRAMENTO—The California Taxpayers' Association says in a special report to the legislature there could be a state and local government revenue gap of as much as $1.4 billion in 1974-75 unless steps are taken now by the legislature to control proposed expenditure commitments.

If those proposed commitments are enacted, the state will face the certainty of a tax increase next year just to balance the 1975-76 budget.

The major problems come from the uncertainty of the economy and the more than $1 billion in appropriation measures now before the legislature for items outside the regular state budget. The full impact is felt the following year when they become "locked" into the next budget.

The report urges the legislature to review the fiscal condition of state and local government as a unit because there are three traditional means of meeting potential revenue gaps: Increase taxes, decrease programs or pass the costs on to local government.

Cal-Tax also urged revision of the state controller's data collection and accounting procedures to include a state fiscal management system that will provide functionally oriented data about state and local programs and their costs. This should be a regular part of the annual budget process.

No system now exists to provide the legislature the information it needs as the controller's data is basically cost accounting. Therefore, Cal-Tax says, an improved system is needed so the controller can provide useful data on state and local expenditures by function.

Seniors File

Tax Claims Early

More than 125,000 California residents 62 years of age and over have already filed 1974 claims for reimbursement of a portion of their 1973-74 property taxes under California's Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Law, according to State Controller, Houston L. Flournoy.

Under the senior citizens law, up to 96 percent of the property taxes can be reimbursed, depending upon the individual's income, Flournoy said.

Padres Beef-up Bullpen With Rookie Laxton

The San Diego Padres have purchased the contract of left-handed pitcher Bill Laxton from their Class-AA Alexandria farm club of the Texas League it was announced by Padres General Manager Peter Bavasi.

Laxton, 26, was 3-0 for Alexandria, being used mainly in relief, but seeing occasional action as a spot starter. He had a 2.36 ERA along with 22 strikeouts in 26 innings.

Laxton joined the Padres in Chicago Tuesday and will be used out of the bullpen in order to give the Padres lone left-handed relief man Dave Tomlin some much-needed rest.

The return of Laxton marks the end of two and a half seasons in the minors as he pitched briefly for the Padres at the tailend of the 1971 season.

The addition of Laxton brings the Padres back to their 25-man limit as he fills the spot left vacant by last Saturday's trade of righthanded pitcher Steve Arlin to the Cleveland Indians.
